

Hello. I am a computer science professor. My students and I are all hobbyists who tinker and experiment with our computers and audio and video technology.

Rules

like the one you are considering will have a strongly detrimental action on our ability to envision and create the new generations of technology that will make media better for all Americans. The idea that the MPAA's interest trumps the interest of all consumers in America is a terrible mistake. Please drop this plan!